Breezin' Thru: A Fun Way to Learn Music Theory and Composition

While many music students focus in on the fun of learning to play songs, they often dread what they perceive to be the boring tasks of learning theory and composition. Looking to solve this problem, Jean McKen created Breezin' Thru Theory and then its companion product Breezin' Thru Composition. Breezing Thru Theory and Composition are innovative, interactive software that teaches students both music theory and composition in a fun hands-on way through drills, games and the thrill of making music. Teacher's love it because it keeps their students engaged focused and they are learning. Students learn at their own pace and each lesson builds off the previous.

Each Chapter starts off with "See It-Hear It" lesson pages so that music theory concepts can be seen and heard for better comprehension. The next lessons are rapid response to music theory concepts which are achieved through the interactive Mad Dash Drills. Students are given 2-minutes to complete a drill which can often turn into a mad dash competition between students. There's auto-scoring for instant feedback & an Auto Assessment Student Tracker! Students enjoy practicing with the Shoot 'n Score online game too.

Then there is Composer's Corner where Students can then apply their theory knowledge while they create music of their own through Composer's Corner. The summative test at the end helps measure how much the student has progressed through the whole series.

Breezin' Thru Theory is designed for Grades 5-12 and contains complete curriculum that can be used for preparing for the Royal Conservatory of Music theory exams and AP Music 1. Breezin' Thru saves time and is flexible because you use it at your own pace, it is affordable, and it gets results.

"Taking high level information and making it fun is important for high school and college level kids too. They love the games and the immediate feedback, even if they do get their butts kicked sometimes." Hope M. K. Milthaler Director of Choral Activities, Department Chair, Kings High School, Ohio.

Breezin' Thru Composition is a cool interactive compositions lessons app that can be used with any device: iPads, android tablets, computers or smart phones. It has ready-made lessons and activities for Grades 5 through 12 that can be used at home or in class. Students love it because they can make their music, teachers love it because their students are learning and the curriculum is easy to use and follow.

There are 5 easy steps that go into passing Breezin' Thru Composition and they are interactive lessons and activities, composition model, create your own composition, reflect and discuss, and expand it. Students can study each program alone or together since they have been made to complement each other to give the student the most out of their learning experience.

Finally there is a product that both student and teacher can agree on where learning is fun and educational. Breezin' Thru is highly regarded by educators throughout the United States and Canada.
